Statement on the 72nd Chin National Day

Today, the 20th February of 2020 marks the historic 72nd Chin National Day for the Chin people. Chin national day is an auspicious day on which the ancestors' practice of chieftainship was abolished to uphold democracy and to display unity and self-determination of Chin people.

Throughout the history, the Chins were independent people who possessed freedom to determine its own destiny. Until today, the Chin exists with distinguished national identity and characteristics in the world because of the national awakening, patriotic spirit, and veracity, therefore, it is necessary to sustain these values continually.

As the Chin National Front is determined to resolve the Myanmar's political problems through political dialogues, it seeks to continue implementation of state level and union level bilateral ceasefire agreements to end the internal armed conflicts in order to build sustainable peace in Myanmar. At the same time, the Chin Nation Front will endeavor, together with Chin people and all ethnic peoples, in order to produce basic federal principles, build Federal Union and establish the Union Constitution that preserves the essence of freedom, equality and self-determination for all ethnic people.

Chin National Day which falls on 20th February is the day to exhibit our national identity, self-determination and unity, patriotic spirit and politically broad-mindedness of Chin people. Therefore, we urge all the Chin people living in Chinland and around the world to protect the Chin national day on which we started to practice democracy system that is based on people's desire and to participate meaningfully in celebration with full of patriotic essence.
